That elephants fear cheese was an accidental discovery made by the noted elephantologist G. Coleman (Coleman 1984). The story of the discovery is now famous, but worth repeating:	Source B
After a hard morning following the herd, I had just sat down under a tree for lunch and unwrapped a particularly delectable chunk of cheddar sent up from the base camp. Suddenly I heard an enormous trampling sound, and when I looked up, the entire herd was gone. (Coleman 1988 p 160)	Source C, page 160
Meanwhile a French cheese expert asserts on his website that elephants do not flee from French cheese, only the lesser cheeses of other nations. 'Zee creatures, zey have good taste, non?' he writes (Gouda n.d Introduction section para 2).	Source I, Introduction Para 2
One researcher (Sturgess 2004a 2004b) has published a series of articles roundly denouncing the MMH,	Source K, L and the debate has even spilled over into the popular press (Achison 2004).	Source A
