

1. What is a research proposal? (2 pts)

A research proposal is a simply a structured, formal document that explains what you plan to research (i.e. your research topic), why it's worth researching (i.e. your justification), and how you plan to investigate it (i.e. your practical approach).

2. What are the three key things that you need in your presentation's outline? (2 pts)

- A compelling introduction
- A strong body
- An actionable conclusion

3. Name two purposes that your presentation may have: (1pt)

- To inform
- To entertain
- To inspire
- To persuade

4. Answer with "true" or "false" (10 pts)

- 1- We can not tell personal stories in our presentations. FALSE
- 2- Make sure things are cohesive and logical in your presentation. TRUE
- 3- Don't put blocks of text on a single slide in a power point presentation. TRUE
- 4- The less the examples we include in the presentation the more it is clear. FALSE
- 5- Writing down the main points helps in memorizing your presentation. TRUE
- 6- A person without a plan is lost before they start. TRUE
- 7- Not any presentation need to have an end goal and purpose in mind. FALSE
- 8- you may end your presentation with a memorable quote. TRUE
- 9- The purpose of the research proposal is to convince your research supervisor, committee or university that your research is suitable. TRUE
- 10- Any research proposal should include an introduction. TRUE