Security is a basic need for the human community and an indicator of stability, prosperity and progress, as a society in which security and safety are available is reflected in its behaviors and achievements, as this reassures souls and constitutes an incentive for work, creativity, stability and preservation of national identity, and the security of societies has always been a basic requirement in the lives of peoples throughout the ages, because it is one of the basic needs to ensure living in stability and peace.

In light of the spread of the media and social networking sites, and the emergence of many challenges and threats that may affect the security of the intellectual, moral, ideological, cultural and other society, one of the negative phenomena experienced by societies today is the spread of hatred, extremism, racism and sectarianism, which resulted in crises, wars and intellectual, political and even military conflicts that have become a threat to the lives of peoples in the world.

Accordingly, the Forum presents a multidisciplinary approach to provide a comprehensive vision of the various threats facing societies due to hatred and to find mechanisms to spread the values of tolerance, dialogue and peaceful coexistence.
