

University of Oum El Bouaghi

Master's degree in Sociology

Program Description:

The Master's degree in Sociology is designed to prepare students intellectually to pursue a Ph.D. in Sociology. For example, it allows a graduate to get involved in business as an administrator and decision maker. The aim of the training is to help students acquire knowledge and abilities in the field of sociological analysis of work relations, organizational behavior and human resource management, while instilling in them an adaptive and synthesis approach..

First term:

Teaching units	subject
The Main Teaching Unit	Introduction to The Sociology of Organization and Work
	Social Psychology of Work
	Theories of Organization
	Human Resource Development
Methodology Teaching Unit	Methodology and Research Techniques 1
	Descriptive and Inferential Statistics 1
Exploratory Teaching Unit	The knowledge Society
	Economic Anthropology
Horizontal Teaching Unit	Foreign Language

Second term :

Teaching units	subject
The Main Teaching Unit	The Modern Organization of The Istitution
	Leadership and Institutional Communication
	Sociology of Industrial and Technological Risk
	Sociology of Labor Movements

Methodology Teaching Unit	Methodology and Research Techniques 2
	Descriptive and Inferential Statistics 2
Exploratory Teaching Unit	Development Models in The World
	Ergonomics
Horizontal Teaching Unit	Foreign Language

Thierd term:

Teaching units	subject
The Main Teaching Unit	Sociological Analysis of The Algerian Institution
	Studies on The Sociology of Work in Algeria
	Professional and Social Mobility in Algeria
	Labor Market in Algeria
Methodology Teaching Unit	The Methodology of Writing a Thesis
	Applied Statistics of The Social Sciences
Exploratory Teaching Unit	Entrepreneurship
	Labor Law Legislation in Algeria
Horizontal Teaching Unit	Foreign Language

Fourth term:

Graduation Thesis – Master
Forums (Workshop)